

The Executive Collection

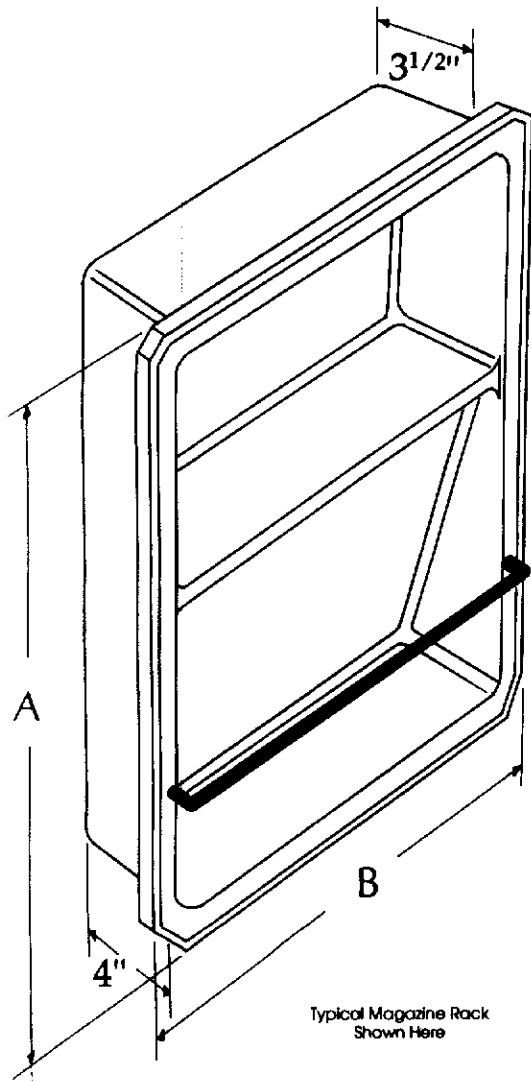

Towel Caddies & Magazine Racks

Our recessed accessories have several things in common:

- They all fit into normally unused stud-to-stud wall space.
- They are all the same stud depth of 3 1/2".
- The metal trim bars come standard in either polished chrome or polished brass. Other finishes are available upon request at a nominal surcharge.
- They are all available in standard Exyte, Kohler, Eljer, American Standard solid color finishes with custom and premium colors available for a nominal surcharge. Also, they are available in Six-Eleven's Aluminyx and Granatex colors.

The Executive Collection is one of the most attractive and functional ways to store towels, magazines and books. The space efficiency of our accessory collection is the ultimate solution to limited floor and wall space situations. The Executive Collection accessories utilize the wall space between studs and as such do not use room space.

- The room is enhanced by organized storage space and additional "elbow room" for the user.
- These accessories are attractive and suitable for all types of decor—Traditional to Contemporary.
- The Executive Collection utilizes otherwise "dead" wall space between studs.
- The cargo is held in a convenient, organized manner.
